Call for Proposals in 2017:

PhD Conferences

To mark its 40th year in operation, the Boehringer Ingelheim Foundation will be funding top-quality PhD Conferences on topics within basic research in the biological, chemical, medical, and pharmaceutical fields during 2017/2018, with up to 8,000 € per conference.

Deadline June 30, 2017

Who can apply?

PhD students who are organising an internationally oriented, high-quality PhD Conference for 2017/2018 may submit a grant application. PhD programme retreats or local scientific events will not be funded.

What will be funded?

- The participation (travel, accommodation, attendance fee) for some outstanding junior scientists
- Travel and accommodation costs for top speakers (e.g. keynote speakers)
- Additional costs of the conference
